'This book is a spectacular work of paper engineering and it is also a superb introduction to the famous narrative poem. [...] For readers who are already acquainted with this poem the book provides the ideal excuse to revisit this tale of melancholy and lost love, and for anyone discovering it for the first time, this offers a very approachable introduction to one of world's favourite poems.' --Carousel Magazine Présentation de l'éditeur

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered weak and weary, Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore, While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping, As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door . . . Edgar Allan Poe's The Raven is one of the most widely recognised poems in the English language. When it first appeared in the New York Evening Mirror, in 1845, the poem made Poe an overnight sensation. Master paper engineer David Pelham amazes us once again with his pop-up design to interpret this haunting love story. Biographie de l'auteur

Edgar Allan Poe, the 19th-century writer, is known for his gothic and macabre work. David Pelham, designer and paper engineer, has created numerous bestselling children's books. Christopher Wormell, an outstanding artist and printmaker, has written and illustrated a variety of children books. Pelham and Wormell reside in London.
